

Questionnaire B2 was sent to voluntary sector workers who work specifically with children and young people with mental health problems. Other voluntary sector workers who were not specifically mental health workers got questionnaire A. Questionnaire B3 went to educational psychologists.